AN AMERICAN GIRL THE PARIS SIREN

VANDERBILT'S CHARMER A NATIVE OF NEVADA.

Revels In Soft Hearts and Fat Purse

—Educated at a Fashionable Seminary, She Early Begins Her Career of Conquest—Her Record In the United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 31.—Nellie Neustretter, the young woman who is said to be the cause of the family troubles of William K. Vanderbilt, is well known here. She is native of Eureka, Nev., was educated at Mills' seminary, Alameda county, resided for a number of years in San Francisco, and has frequently figured in escapades that have won her notoriety both in the United States and Europe. She was born about 30 years ago in Eureka, where her father, Ben Cohen, kept a clothing store and became wealthy. She returned to Eureka from the seminary when she was 18 years old, and was the belle of the town. Pretty, witty, graceful and vivacious, she possessed all the requisites for the breaking of hearts.

Her first victim was the nephew of a well known capitalist, and her conduct with him created such a scandal that her parents sent her to the care of relatives in San Francisco. The change failed to make the desired reformation and she soon became a marked figure on Kearney and Market streets. Among her admirers was a wealthy Hebrew named Rothschild, who laid himself and his fortune at her feet. She utilized both until she fell in love with Henry Neustretter, a cigar salesman. She married Neustretter in 1884 and all went well for a time. Her husband's business compelled him to be out of the city most of the time and during his absence Nelly led a gay life. She was the boon companion of all the fast young men about town and the end came in 1887.

She left her husband and went to New York in company with Laura Edelman, a noted woman of Los Angeles. Neustretter secured a divorce and Nelly continued to live a gay life in New York. She captured the heart of a millionaire manufacturer, who gave her a sumptuous flat houses and carriages and all the money she could spend. He took her to Europe where she traveled like a princess. When she returned to New York she dazzled the people with the elegance of her Worth dresses and the brilliancy of her jewels.

In 1890 she returned to San Francisco to visit her parents, who had removed to this city from Eureka. She took rooms at a leading hotel, dressed better than any woman in the city, wore thousands of dollars' worth of gems and spent money as freely as if she had an unlimited letter of credit on the United States mint. Her money began to give out and she went back to New York for more, taking with her a pretty Oakland girl.

The next that was heard of her she had gone to Europe again and had been ejected from the Continental hotel in Paris. To her parents she wrote that she was studying for the stage and she always carefully concealed from them the fact that she was leading a gay life. She wrote that she would return to San Francisco in October, but probably her encounter with Mr. Vanderbilt may interfere with her plans.

MRS. LIKENS' LETTER.

Gov. Waite and the Police Officials Given a Hearing at Denver.

DENVER, Aug. 31.—The hearing of the case against Gov. Waite, President Mullins of the fire and police board, Hamilton Armstrong, chief of police, and Kate Dwyer, police matron, charging them with conspiracy in detaining a letter intended for ex-Police Matron Sadie M. Likens was before United States Commissioner Hinsdale yesterday. The defendants, except Gov. Waite, were arraigned and pleaded not guilty, as the governor had previously done. Mrs. Likens was placed on the stand and swore that the advertisement in the News of July 2, seeking a position as cook or housekeeper, was inserted by a Mrs. Harnet, who had asked permission to have the answers sent in care of Mrs. Likens at the city hall. This statement was verified by Mrs. Harnet. Other evidence to substantiate this fact was introduced.

THE COMMISSION'S WORK IS DONE
Chicago's Mayor Gives His Testimony—106 Witnesses Examined.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The United States strike commission, after fourteen days devoted to examination of witnesses in this city, yesterday adjourned to meet in Washington Sept. 26. During this time 106 witnesses have been examined by the commission on behalf of the employees and employers.

Yesterday's session was devoted to the testimony of Mayor John P. Hopkins, Stewart Charles Wade, W. F. Guion, Richard Mooney, Sylvester Kelihier and George W. Howard. Mayor Hopkins' testimony consumed the greater part of the afternoon, and he was called to give rebuttal testimony on behalf of the employees and the American Railway Union. He gave in detail what he knew relative to the strike and contradicted the testimony of John M. Egan, wherein he said he told the mayor that if he was in his place he wouldn't allow himself to be a messenger boy for the American Railway Union. The mayor said, most emphatically, Mr. Egan did not make the statement, and, furthermore, he would not have allowed the business manager of the Railway Managers' association to talk to him in such a manner.

Mayor Hopkins testified that during the riots at the stock yards and elsewhere the police were aided, in their efforts to suppress disorder, by members of the A. R. U. He then read the correspondence between himself and Gen. Miles, which has heretofore been published.

"I say this because I have never protested against the federal troops notwithstanding the fact that I might have felt that they should have called upon the city or municipal authorities before calling them in."

Other witnesses testified as to the good conduct of the A. R. U. men during the strike. W. F. Guion, who at the time of the strike was a reporter, testified as to the burning of cars during the strike. He said the mobs were made up for the most part of hoodlums and not railroad men.

Vice-President Howard went into a long explanation of the meeting at Blue Island. He admitted he said that Mr. Pullman ought to be hung, but said he did not say that he would like to be the one to hang him. Sylvester Kelihier, the secretary of the A. R. U., said he had given to the commission all the letters and telegrams asked by that body.

After the adjournment of the commission Chairman Wright expressed himself well satisfied with the work of that body. He said they had examined 106 witnesses and the expenditures to Aug. 31 would be less than $1,500.

"We are entirely satisfied with the course of the investigation," he said, "and feel greatly gratified with our policy which has brought before the commission the leading men on both sides of the controversy. Everything was opened to us by the parties without hesitation so far as I know. As soon as the testimony is written up and placed in our hands we shall proceed to make our report and it will probably be ready about the middle of November. We have adjourned to Sept. 26 and then we will meet in Washington for the purpose of hearing any new or supplementary facts necessary for our information."

This morning United States District Attorney Dixon will hold a conference over the strike suits, which will come up for trial at the September term.

CRISIS IN SMALLPOX SCARE.

Dr. Kempster Before the State Health Board at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 31.—The state board of health met in the Pfister club-room yesterday morning. Dr. Kempster spoke for nearly an hour in his own defense. He claimed every important step taken was on the direction of the city attorney and by advice of the state board. At the afternoon session the board listened to the testimony of some of the Eleventh ward citizens in regard to the condition of affairs in that section. The general opinion of the health board is that things have reached a crisis in this city and that the situation here is serious.

Wheat Crop in North Dakota.

FARGO, N. D., Aug. 31.—Farmers of North Dakota are indignant at the persistent attempts to misrepresent the wheat yield. Sworn official returns from fifty towns in Cass county show a decrease in acreage of 10 per cent and in many of the counties it is greater. The best judges in the state place the whole yield of the state not above 26,000,000 bushels, or about twelve bushels per acre.

COWS ALL DRIED UP AND BUTTER SCARCE

CENTER CREAMERY REPORT
A FIFTY PER CENT. DROP.

Burglars in Evansville—Change Made In the Milton Junction School Course—Fire in the Footville Creamery—Church Gifts Sold By the Ladies Aid Society.

CENTER, Aug. 31.—The Center Creamery Company report a falling off of milk of over fifty per cent since June 30. The dairy business has been far in the lead for the past three years, and farmers generally must prepare in time for just such seasons as the last two have been in Rock county, by a liberal planting of "fodder" stuff that can be used in cases like the present, if they wish to keep up the standing they have gained. Mr. Boot has received his Columbian diploma, scoring 99 points out of a possible 100, which shows what Center can do in this line as well as in tobacco. Threshing is generally done, and parties frequenting the road are glad to be rid of the engines for another year. Now let the engine owners go around and repair bridges. Fred Vankirk "our groceryman," is selling best Patent flour from Minnesota mills at 95 cents; 90 cents in five-sack lots. It behoves prudent farmers to lay in a winter supply. The best musical and literary entertainment ever given in this vicinity was at the Christian church Thursday night. Those who missed it are regretting the same now. Mr. Goodacre is the busiest man in Center. He is at present figuring on getting up an amusement club for the winter months. The church will hold a sociable on the lawn at Fred Vankirk's next Wednesday evening, and at that time steps will be taken towards an organization. All are invited. Center had a pleasant call from Emmet Burdick of Janesville, and Charles Waite of Rock, this week. Fred Vankirk says that he can supply all the wants of Center. Groceries, clothing, notions etc., at less price than so called "wholesale" agents can dare make. Give him a call. J. T. Snyder has finished his water reservoir and is proud of one of the best stockyards in the county. Seth Fisher has a "forty" of corn west of the creamery that is going to surprise some of the old inhabitants when it is harvested. Mrs. Root of Monroe, is visiting Elder Goodacre and friends this week. Mrs. S. M. Fisher, of Clinton Junction is visiting at the home of her parents. Lay in your winter supply of flour now. Fred Vankirk has one of the best makes at 90 cent per sack in 5 or 10 sack lots. The entertainment at the Disciple church on Thursday evening was acknowledged by all present to be the best of the season. The talent was mostly from Janesville. Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Snyder spent the first of the week in Fort Atkinson visiting his brother Albert and family. Mr. Blasdel and Burton were pleasant callers in town on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. E. Hanthorn of Janesville attended church here Sunday. Miss Mattie Snyder spent Friday among Evansville friends. Miss Minnie Apel who has been visiting friends in Milwaukee the past four weeks returned home last Friday. William Cory of Footville recently purchased in Rockford a very fine monument for his parents. It is one of the finest and most costly pieces of work ever placed in Bethel cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. John Crow left for Olin Monday. Miss Nellie Brown beats the record on a bicycle. Miss Winnie Dean of Chicago is spending her summer vacation among Center relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ashby drove over to Porter on Sunday. Louis Apel who has been on the sick list is out again. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snyder spent Saturday at Thomas Harper's. Miss Emma Whitmore is attending the fall term at the State normal at White-water.

HEARD A SERMON BY ELMER SERL
Fairfield People Went to Darien and Attended Service Last Sunday.

FAIRFIELD, Aug. 31.—Several from here attended church at Darien and listened to Elmer Serl last Sunday evening. A pleasant evening, a large crowd and a merry time is the report from last Friday evening's social at Aaron Thompson's. B. Conry is making some rapid sales in wagons and buggies. The young people will hold a "Bazar" and the married ladies will serve a "peach tea" at the church on Thursday evening, September 6. All are cordially invited to attend. Tickets for supper ten cents. Ladies please furnish sponge cake. Should that evening prove stormy the entertainment will be given the next night September 7. Miss Ida White spent a few days this week with Fairfield friends. Robert More is busy growing and repairing some of his farm buildings. Mr. Douglass and Miss Angie of Clinton, were callers at J. Cutters' on Monday.

FIRE IN THE FOOTVILLE CREAMERY.
Quick Work of a Neighbor Averted Serious Loss—Church Gifts Sold.

FOOTVILLE, Aug. 31.—Fire broke out in the engine room at the creamery Thursday evening and had it not been for the neighbors the creamery and warehouse would have been burned. Mr. Carlson, who lives in the same building thinks the fire was caused by a box of matches exploding. Mrs. Lucy Strong is seriously ill with neuralgia. Dr. Lacy is attending her. I. M. Fisher is in Chicago. The Methodist Sunday school held their annual picnic in Jacob Wiggins' grove Thursday. Miss Lizzie Harper spent Sunday in Orfordville. Joseph Stickle, formerly of this place, but now of Janesville, is numbered among those here from abroad. The sale of gifts which was held by the ladies aid society of the Christian church on Wednesday eve was a very enjoyable affair, the goods selling above par, and the museum was worth twice the amount charged for admittance. Mrs. Anna Garlick spent the first of the week with friends in Illinois. Superintendent Ross is in Evansville this week attending the institute. Miss Grace Honeysett will attend the Footville academy the coming year. Of late Footville seems to be a city of importance. The people of Washington and other national centers speak of it as a place to be watched. Mrs. Julius Willing is in Watertown visiting her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Ora Shaw are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy. William Cory has bought the Ferguson property on Church street. Miss Ruth Wallihan returned to Chicago Monday.

MILTON JUNCTION SCHOOL CHANGE
Another Year Added to the Course—Isaac Morgan's Funeral Sunday.

MILTON JUNCTION, Aug. 31.—School begins here September 17. The school trustees have added a year to the course, so those who expected to graduate next year will have to attend one year more. The same teachers are engaged for next year, with the exception of Miss Hubbard, whose place, it is reported, will be filled by Miss Rebecca Stockman. Mr. and Mrs. Salto, who have been spending the summer at H. E. Miner's left for their home in Chicago this week. The funeral of Isaac Morgan will be held Sunday morning at the Methodist church. Bert Button's house is nearly ready for the masons. The carpenters are finishing the inside work on the "Morgan" house. The work on the Seventh Day Baptist church is still waiting for cooler weather or some other reason. The ladies are getting anxious for a chance to lay their new carpet and will be taking matters in their own hands before long and hurry matters a little. Charles Palmer of Oshkosh, a professional frescoer, says the warm weather makes no difference. It looks as if the "other fellow" must have a job somewhere else.

Professor and Mrs. Perley Clark, who have been spending the vacation here, left for their home in Highland, Monday, where Professor Clarke is principal of the graded school. David Baker and wife have bought ten acres of land of Allen Osmond. Mrs. Osmond and daughter Hattie are in Pennsylvania on a visit. Mrs. McLaugherty and children are spending a few days in Edgerton and vicinity. Mrs. Kate Button entertained her sister, Mrs. Green and a friend of hers from Clintonville, on Wednesday. Nellie Coon and Addie Crandall visited in Janesville, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. M. J. Clarke is expected home from an extended visit next Thursday. Professor and Mrs. Charles Crandall, of Watertown, visited relatives here Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark spent Sunday with the campers at Lake Koshkonong. Rev. Mr. Witton, of Albion, was calling in town Wednesday. Quite a number from this town contemplate attending the patriotic picnic at Albion Thursday. Mr. Henderson, of Edgerton, visited his daughter, Mrs. Nichols, Tuesday. The district convention of the Methodist church was well attended and very interesting throughout. The "Carolinians" gave a fine concert to a good house here Saturday night, and sang at the Methodist church Sunday. Dr. Hull's little baby has the whooping cough. All the rest of the children around had it last winter. The store in the Odd Fellows' block has been let to parties who are to put in a stock of clothing and general merchandise. Lura Burdick begins teaching school in the Clark Palmer district next Monday. Mrs. George W. Coon, who was burned quite badly a short time ago, is able to ride out. Mrs. Calista Wilson of Trenton, Minn., is visiting friends here and is thinking some of locating here if she finds property to suit her. Mrs. Kate Crumb of Fort Atkinson, is visiting here for a few days. Mrs. Tickner and three young children and Mrs. West, Mrs. Tickner's mother, went to Chicago Wednesday to visit friends a few days. Mrs. Tickner is talking of buying the "Mills" property on Vernal Ave. on Sunday.

BURGLARS AT WORK IN EVANSVILLE
They Try to Enter George Pullen's House But Make Too Much Noise.

EVANSVILLE, Aug. 31.—Burglars tried to force an entrance to George Pullen's house in Evansville. They prowled around the new summer kitchen recently built, but finding everything locked and no way to get into the main part of the house, they went around to one of the front windows and it was here that positive evidence was found that burglars had been there. The window was locked but they had succeeded in bending the catch by prying with a chisel on the lower part of the sash. Mr. Pullen is of the opinion that he was awakened when the catch gave away, and his getting up and lighting a lamp probably frightened away the intruders. The window was found opened about a foot, but as nothing was missing it is thought that they did not venture into the house.

FARMERS SWINDLED BY CALICO SELLERS

COMMODITY A NEW ONE FOR SHARPERS' USE.

Sheriff Bear Gets An Intimation that In the Eastern Part of the County an Old-Fashioned Game Is Being Worked In Slightly Different Form.

Sheriff Bear has received word from the eastern part of the county that leads him to again give warning to farmers and others against sharpers. A gang of these worthless fellows are working neighboring counties, and are catching the unsuspecting farmers with great success. The scheme is to show a pile of dry goods which they are carrying with them, consisting of calico and kindred goods, and offer them at low prices. They offer $15, $20 or $25 worth at the low price of $6, $7 or $8 and they do not even want the cash, but accommodate the farmer by taking his note, payable in sixty or ninety days, with the promise that the goods will be forthcoming by express in a few days. Several farmers who have bit have received notices from banks stating that they have their notes.

The soap venders are also loose. They go around selling soap, throwing in lamps, chairs, dishes and then a lady's gold watch as a bait. They collect the pay and agree to deliver the goods at some time in the future, but the time nor goods never come.

YERKES TO BE NEAR HIS SPY-GLASS.
Summer Home on the Site of the Janesville Camp at Fontana.

B. F. LANDIS WANTED A GUN.
He Desired To Go Behind His Counter, But Detective Lynch Refused.

It is said on good authority that before leaving the Oshkosh police station, Landis, the alleged horse thief, admitted that he had once been engaged in horse thieving, but that he had since reformed. Detective Dan Lynch states that when he went to arrest Landis, the latter was very anxious to go behind the counter, but having been warned that if Landis ever got a shooting iron in his hand that there would be one person less in this world, the officer mildly refused the request. Despite vigorous protests from the prisoner, he was hastily searched and the steel knuckle was found in his hip pocket. It is said that he has a wife and family of grown up children in Ohio in addition to the one living in Oshkosh at the present time. Charges of a most serious nature in addition to those for which he was arrested probably await him on arriving at his native state.

There will be no admission charged to the grounds at Evanston. Eighteen hundred troops will be in the field. The train will leave for Janesville Saturday afternoon as soon as the maneuvers are over.

HE PLAYED THE COWARD.

"Party perfidy and party dishonesty" did not lie in the action of the sugar senators alone. The house of representatives and the president made themselves parties to this treason to pledge and principle by placing their indorsement on the senate's treachery. Each in its way went as far as parliamentary etiquette permitted in denouncing the senate's recreancy, but each ate its words and participated in the apostasy. The house held out for a while and made a pretense of devotion to the party's traditions and promises, but it backed down eventually. The president made a parade of lofty loyalty to principle, and condemned the renegades of the senate in a letter which was made public at the same time that their work was made law, but he did not take the means legally provided for him to defeat this work.

The entire democracy shares in the guilt of which the senate has been accused by the president and the house. The president's own surrender to the jobbers and traitors of his party was peculiarly abject and indefensible when the denunciations of the Wilson letter are taken into account. It adds cowardice to his apostasy, for the power to prevent the consummation of the senate's treason which was in his hands could not be set aside.

What a howling mockery democratic "economy" in state and national affairs has been. It has already been shown by Mr. Cannon, republican member of the house committee on appropriations, and others, that the alleged economy of the present congress has come wholly out of pensions, the appropriations for other purposes exceeding those of the first session of the Fifty-second congress by more than $1,000,000.

Grocers who have been selling eighteen pounds of sugar for a dollar are now giving seventeen pounds. This is a reminder that on every dollar's worth of sugar you buy you contribute a pound for the benefit of the Havemeyer trust. Mr. Carlisle can probably tell you why.

The general tendency on the part of our people, remarks Dr. Rice in the September Forum, to oppose the introduction of all methods of instruction that do not savor of the old-fashioned mechanical routine, is, in my opinion, one of the greatest barriers to educational progress in this country today.

There seems to be a reasonable doubt as to the ability of Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor to distinguish between a bribe and a personal courtesy. He should be given a chance to chose between Mr. Pullman's annual pass and Uncle Sam's annual salary.

Chairman Wilson, of the house ways and means committee, ought to receive a warm welcome in Europe. True, he did not give the Europeans all he wanted to give them, but that wasn't his fault. He tried hard enough.

There is no jealousy between Governor McKinley and big Tom Reed. The former will open the congressional campaign of the latter with a speech that will be heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Many will rejoice that "Buck" Kilgore, the Texas congressman who obtained notoriety by kicking open the door of the house, has been kicked out of public life by his constituents.

THERE is one sure way to prevent the foreign manufacturers from realizing the profits they expect under the new tariff—buy American goods exclusively.

The whiskey trust will doubtless chip in liberally to the democratic campaign fund, in return for the ten days grace given it by Mr. Cleveland.

Coxey's "confidence" in his election to congress is worth $100 a night to him. Verily, there is a new sucker born every minute.

"Moon" is the queer name of the anti-ring candidate of South Carolina. The moon oftener than otherwise has a ring around it.

George Gould will bring no trophies from England, unless the report that he has hooked a royal brother-in-law turns out to be true.

Mr. Cleveland doubtless finds the wild waves of Buzzard's Bay a relief after his long bout with congress.

SHAM BATTLE FULL OF REALISM.

Movements at Appomattox to be the Model Tomorrow Afternoon.

Janesville people who go to Evanston on the excursion train at 8:30 tomorrow will see the last of the regular army maneuvers. It will be many days before 1,800 men will be massed in Chicago again. Tomorrow's battle will be similar in plan to the movements at Appomattox. Tuesday the Malvern Hill tactics were tried. The squadron of cavalry, acting as skirmishers engaged the enemy and the command fell into line of battle, upon which each battalion of infantry threw out a skirmish line covering the front of the command. The battle now began to be waged fast and furious. The squadron of cavalry and battery of artillery, which were in advance, after engaging the enemy with disastrous results, retired to the rear of the main command and formed a reserve force. The infantry skirmish line, after a short and sharp engagement, then retired and joined its proper battalions, upon which the main line became engaged. In the meantime the cavalry, which had retired to the rear of the main line, by concentrating their forces, were enabled to make a long detour around the right flank of the enemy's position, which was called a distance of about ten miles. After this flank movement they went into position, attacking the right flank of the imaginary enemy. The line then moved forward, the movement being commenced by the left and followed by the center and right divisions. The line was at this time changed, facing to the southwest and slowly connecting with the line taken up by the cavalry command. The entire line was then inclined to the right, when it moved over the entire ground to the west end of the field. The boys in blue fought a hard battle with their imaginary enemy and deserved the plaudits they won from the multitude after the battle was won.

BERT CRAWFORD KEEPS HIS PARENTS SCARED.

Disappeared Early In the Summer and Was Located In St. Joe a Few Weeks Since—Ten Days at Home Made Him Restless and He Started Out Again.

BERT CRAWFORD, a young lad about seventeen years of age, who so mysteriously disappeared recently, was located in St. Joseph, Mo., about three weeks ago and his father, a highly respected farmer, living between this city and Evansville, went to that city and brought him back, arriving on the 6 inst. But Bert had had a touch of the romantic life led by a rover and after making a ten day's visit with his parents, he left again, taking Earl Childers, a young boy about his own age, and who was visiting at his home with him. Where they have gone no one knows and this hasty departure for the second time has almost discouraged the grief stricken parents.

Mrs. H. H. DICKENSON, Miss E. V. Cornelius, Miss Anna Tenant and Miss Myra Williams, of this city, took leading parts in a musical and literary programme given in Center last evening. ## BARE AS PAVEMENT WERE IOWA FIELDS

DR. E. E. LOOMIS BACK FROM THE WEST.

HORSES SOLD FOR A DOLLAR A HEAD IN the Omaha and Kansas City Markets and Pigs Were Disposed of
For Twenty-Five Cents Apiece—
Dr. St. John Thriving.

DR. E. E. Loomis and wife returned home last evening from their western tour. Dr. Loomis and wife traveled considerably in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, spending a week at Excelsior Springs with Dr. and Mrs. St. John. They return highly pleased and greatly refreshed with their outing.

I was surprised to see vegetation so dried up in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska," said Dr. Loomis. "In many places in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska the fields were as bare as block pavements. The pastures were just the same, and stock of all kinds was to be seen apparently starving for want of something to eat. I saw horses brought into the markets at Leavenworth, Omaha, Council Bluffs and Kansas City and sold for one dollar a head to the glue factories. People did not have feed for them and were obliged to sell for anything. Hogs came in by droves, and sold for twenty-five and fifty cents a head. It is hard to predict what suffering the people in that section will have to endure on account of this dry spell. Everything in the shape of vegetation is destroyed. In Missouri things are different. The crops of all kinds are fine. There is also an abundant fruit crop. We had a splendid time visiting Dr. and Mrs. St. John at Excelsior Springs. The doctor and his wife are in good health and appear to be enjoying themselves. Dr. St. John is not as fat as he was here, but he is feeling just as well as ever. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Tilton were with us at Excelsior Springs."

SUGGESTIONS AS TO TEA.

Whether growing in the fields or steeping on the table, tea is associated with the brightest and cheeriest experiences of life. It soothes the troubled; strengthens the weak; warms the cold; kindles the fancy brightens the wit and loosens the tongue for anecdote and conversation.

The memories of the tea table are those of refined pleasure and pleasant excitement. It is associated with the evening hour, with the gathering of the family circle and the social life of the evenings at home. But it is not as easy as many suppose to obtain a pure and honest tea. Not only are adulterations common, but a large part of all the inferior quality is shipped to this country and imposed upon the people as genuine. This is a known fact and we caution you as to it. You do not know the conditions of the crop from year to year, or the tricks of the exporters, or the skill of those who adulterate. But you do know, or can know, that we have never deceived any of our customers or resorted to any unbusinesslike trick or device to increase our profits. We have spent years in the tea business, and know it thoroughly. It is impossible to fool us on tea; and when we tell you that the Flower of Japan is the best and finest tea in the world that sells for fifty cents a pound, we know it, and will stake our reputation on it.

NEW HOSPITAL NEARLY FINISHED

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES AMPLY PROVIDED FOR—
Large Enough to Meet All Demands

THE new detention hospital, at the foot of South Bluff street, which is being built by the city, is nearing completion, and will be ready for occupation in a few days. The building is a substantial one, and appears to be large enough to meet any demands that are likely to arise for the comfortable care of unfortunate who may be stricken with contagious disease.

HAYMARKET—"The Police Inspector."

Will R. Wilson's drama, illustrative of New York police life "The Police Inspector," was produced for the first time in Chicago Sunday at the Haymarket and was received with much favor. The material for such a play would seem to be practically inexhaustible. The scenery is quite effective, one showing the battery and the other the interior of the Tenderloin police station, being especially realistic—Chicago Herald. Next Wednesday evening, September 5.

VERA CAPELLE GOES A MILE IN 2:10
T. J. Dunbar's Wilton Pacer Reels Off Three Fast Heats.

There isn't a horseman in Janesville that doesn't know of jolly "Tom Dunbar, who drove Captain Tainter's Oaklawn Farm stable from Menominee. No Janesville meeting is complete without him for he is as famous as a story teller or a reinsman. Last June he had Vera Capelle, a Wilton pacing mare in the '20 class here and won one heat in 2:10 but lost the race to Tod Crook. Last July Vera got fourth money in the '15 pacing class getting third position twice in 2:13. At Chicago she was tail ender in the same class, but at Independence, Iowa, yesterday she won the race, reeling off three heats in 2:11, 2:11, 2:10. The purse was $1,000.

Blonde, the chestnut pacer, by Brunswick Chief, who set the Janesville track record at 2:14, which was reduced by Rocker to 2:12, broke the track record at Hoperton, Ill., yesterday by going in 2:17 in the free-for-all.

Mina Medium, a horse that did not win here, captured the purse for 2:17 trotters at Independence yesterday, going in 2:16.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING ALL ENCLOSED

NOTHING REMAINS TO BE DONE BUT TO FINISH THE INTERIOR.

The new Y. M. C. A. building is now enclosed, the slate roofing being nearly all in place. The mason work, which has been under contract with James Shearer, is finished, which completes the exterior of the building. Without question the Y. M. C. A. building is the handsomest edifice in the city, and an ornament in which all the people of the city should take pride. Prominently situated upon one of the principal business streets, it will be seen and admired by visitors and an ornament alone will be of great value to the city. There is much work to be done before the building is completed and made ready for use, and it may not be ready for occupation before next season.

BUGGY WRECKED IN A FAMILY JAR

Third Ward Domestic Disturbance Last Night Drew Chief Acheson's Attention.

There was a little family difficulty down in the southeast corner of the Third ward last evening, in which a buggy was rolled down the steep bluff and wrecked. Chief of Police Acheson was sent for to command peace in the neighborhood, but when the combatants saw the officer coming they took to the woods and thus avoided arrest. Quiet was restored, the only visible damage being the wrecked buggy.

They came here from Elgin and were wed by Rev. S. P. Wilder. When they called on Rev. A. H. ## SWEET PEAS.

Sweet peas of many colors, pink and blue, And dusky purple mellowing to a hue Of brown veined crimson when I look at you, I think my eyes have borrowed of your dew.

Because I knew you long ago, mayhap Your white face looking from a purple cap, And your fin bonnet with a modest flap, And loved you as you lay upon my lap.

Because I like the dear old fashioned traits, Your stately carriage and your gracious ways; Because my heart can never cease to praise The tender beauty of the bygone days;

Because you smell of gardens long ago, With old world lilles standing in a row, And dallias with their gaudy furbelow. Is this the reason why I love you so?

Because—because, oh, blossoms, you have read My secret heart, you seem to bow your head For piety and pity of the dead, Because perchance I leave a name unsaid.

—Frank Leslie's Monthly.

SNAKE IN THE GRASS.

I detest Celia.

We were so happy till she came to stay with Jack's people and told me I was spoiling him. Of course it was no business of hers if I were—she admitted that—but she was so fond of me that she felt she must speak, being older and more experienced than I, and implore me to remember that it wasn't only my lover I was spoiling, but my future husband, and if I let him have his own way in everything now I should never be able to have mine by and by when we were married.

So Jack and I quarreled at the Hornes' home last night.

I hardly know what it was about in the first instance, but it grew and grew until it seemed to me there was nothing we weren't quarreling about, and Jack was soon terribly in earnest. Though we had been engaged for three weeks, I'd no idea he had it in him to be so angry. And of course I lost my head and got angry, too—really angry—and said horrid things, and—and—I told him that our engagement was broken off, and there must be an end of everything between us, and—and—Jack took me at my word. I never thought of his doing that.

"As you please," he said, speaking quietly all of a sudden. We were in the conservatory, and the dance music in the drawing room must have drowned the sound of our voices half a dozen yards away. "You wish our engagement to end, Maud? So be it. Your letters shall be returned to you tomorrow, and I will at once leave you free to resume your flirtation with Frank Horne."

"But—Jack!"

His face was set and white. He never even looked at me. The music ceased. Celia and several other dancers strolled into the conservatory, and he left me.

Yes, he went away and danced with other girls, and he never spoke one word to me or came near me again the whole evening.

Hark! Some one is crossing the hall. Surely Jane won't be so foolish as to show any one in here now!

In another moment "Mr. Dayton" is announced, and Jack himself stands before me.

"Jack!" I started to my feet, and all his treasured documents fall rustling to the floor, but I never think of them. Who thinks of love letters in the presence of the writer? Jack is here, my Jack, and—

But is he indeed my Jack?

The first glance at his face recalls me to myself and reminds me that he is no longer my Jack, or Jack at all to me. I told him I wished our engagement to end, and he remembered it evidently, though I for one brief moment have forgotten. Oh, Jack—Jack!

He waits till the servant has left the room, then takes a small packet from the breast pocket of his coat and turns to me.

"This must be my apology for disturbing you," he says very formally. "I thought I had better bring it myself, in case of accident."

"For me?" I speak vaguely and without offering to take it. I want to gain time.

"Yes—your letters. I have no right to them now."

"How—how beautifully you have packed them!"

He turns away, with an impatient gesture, and lays them on the table.

"I need not detain you any longer, now my errand is done," he says quietly.

"But—there is something else. Oh, you forgot!" as he looks at me questioningly. "You have returned my letters promptly enough (how can I thank you for such promptness?), but you forget your own. As you say, I have no right to them now."

"You wish me to take them? Very well!"

But I do not wish him to take them. Anything but that. I want to postpone the moment of parting. That is all.

"Will you be good enough to fetch them?"

"They are here on the floor. Will you be good enough to help me pick them up?"

He does so without a word. Together we stoop and collect them. Together we lay them on the table. Together for the last time!

I bring paper and string and proceed to pack them up, while he watches me in silence.

"I fear this will not be such a neat parcel as yours," I say, speaking as steadily as I can and bending over the table to hide my troubled face. "You know I'm never good at this sort of thing."

"I know," shortly.

"I can't do it!" And a great tear splashes on the packet. "I'm sorry, but—"

"Don't bother about it." And he lays his hand on mine suddenly. "No need for such a fuss. Give them to me as they are."

"What are you going to do with them?" as he takes them from my trembling hands.

"Put them in the fire!" And he turns to do so.

"No, no, no!" I cry, springing for ward and laying a detaining hand on his arm. "Oh, don't, Jack!"

"Why not?" pausing. "You don't want them, and I'm sure I don't."

"I do. Please give them back to me."

"What for?"

"To keep! To remind me!"

"Of my folly?"

"Of my own I!"

"Your folly is over and done with. Our engagement is broken off," he says moodily. "Better forget it ever existed."

"I cannot do that," with an irrepressible little sob. "I am waiting for those letters."

"Take them, then." And he throws them down on the table. "Keep them to compare with Horne's if you like. I don't care."

"How can you insult me so? What right have you to think me so mean, so heartless?" I cry indignantly. "And you cared for me once, or pretended to."

"I did care, I care now, though I know I'm only a fool for my pains," bitterly. "Heartless, do you say? How can I help thinking you heartless after your conduct last night?"

"My conduct? And what of yours? If I danced with Frank, and, yes, flirted with him a little, you were flirting all the time with Celia and Mollie, and, oh, there wasn't a girl in the room that you didn't flirt with! You know there wasn't."

"Yes, and you should know that there is safety in numbers," he retorts, fixing his dark eyes on mine reproachfully. "But you, Maud, you flirted with Frank all the time, and no one but Frank—a very different thing."

"And what was I to do when you deserted me? Sit still and look miserable? Thanks, no. Really, you are unreasonable."

"You forgot that I did not desert you, as you call it, till after you gave me to understand that I wasn't wanted. You told me to go, and I went."

"You did—on the instant."

"And you blame me for that now? Did you not mean me to take you at your word?"

"Not like that," slowly. "You went—oh, yes—as if you were glad to go. I dare say you were, but you needn't have betrayed your feelings quite so plainly."

"I haven't the smallest intention of betraying my feelings for your gratification," he says, with some warmth.

"You have treated me shamefully, but I see little use in discussing it now. I don't want to reproach you for jilting me. You've done it, and that's enough."

"But—Jack!"

His face was set and white. He never even looked at me. The music ceased. Celia and several other dancers strolled into the conservatory, and he left me.

Yes, he went away and danced with other girls, and he never spoke one word to me or came near me again the whole evening.

WHAT A MISTAKE!

Mrs. Wilcox Suffered Years Thinking There Was No Relief.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

One night in a terrible snowstorm a man walked in a circle till daylight because he thought that he was lost.

He had been tramping all night within a stone's throw of his home.

There is a woman in Philadelphia who lived for years in a daily circle of suffering, because she thought there was no relief.

Her suffering was caused by female weakness in its worst forms. She had pain in her back and loins, great fatigue from walking, leucorrhœa, local inflammation, and a frequent desire to urinate.

All this time relief was close at hand, and she had only to accept it with the same faith that has saved thousands of others. Every druggist had it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her of all weakness and disease, and she is now a different woman.

This woman is Mrs. Walter Wilcox, of 736 West Street, who advises all women who suffer from female weaknesses to try it and be cured. It cures kidney trouble in either sex, expels tumors, removes backache, and invigorates the system.

He turns away, with an impatient gesture, and lays them on the table.

"I break off, unable to speak for the rising sobs that choke my utterances, and turn away abruptly to the window.

"Succeeded? Celia?" he repeats more to himself than to me. "Maud, what is the meaning of all this? Is it possible that Celia misunderstood?"

"She misunderstood nothing." I speak in a dull, expressionless way and without turning round. "She is far too clever for that. It is you who misunderstood and I."

"What have I misunderstood? Oh, if you won't tell me, I must go to Celia and—"

Can I let him go like this? No, a thousand times no.

"Wait!" And I turn impulsively.

"You—you have forgotten something."

"Have I? And what?"

"Your ring. I have no right to it now, as you say."

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

study in Psychology.

Mrs. Bloom—Did you ever notice how hard it is to keep from laughing on solemn occasions?

Bachelor Bounce—Once.

"I thought likely. Nearly every one has such experiences. Tell me about yours."

"It was the day I was told that the baby next door was dead."—N. Y. Weekly.

An Old Acquaintance.

A dissipated old man applied at the quartermaster's office in San Antonio, Tex., for a position as clerk.

"Do you know anything about general management of the offices?" asked the officer.

"Do I know anything about Gen. Management? I should smile. I knew him when he was a lieutenant."—Texas Siftings.

Eve in Embryo.

"Huh!" exclaimed the first little girl, after she had heard the story of the fall of man, "the serpent couldn't tempt me with an apple. I don't like apples."

"But," argued the second girl, "suppose somebody told you not to eat apples."—Detroit Tribune.

Setting Matters Right.

Mrs. Cumso (to her husband)—Do you think it is quite the aesthetic thing to wear a flower in your button-hole and a cigarette in your mouth?

Mr. Cumso—I'm glad you called my attention to the impropriety. (Throws away the flower.)—Judge.

Another Bold Texan.

A young married couple from Texas were doing Niagara Falls. They were being conducted under the Falls by a guide.

"You must take care now, for if you let your foot slip you will be lost."

"Jane, you go on ahead," said the man from Texas.—Texas Siftings.

POOR COLLATERAL.

Charlie Debroke—I suppose, Miss Roxy, that you are aware that for some time my heart has not been in my possession?

Miss Roxy—Why, Mr. DeDroke, I had no idea that you could borrow money on that!—Brooklyn Life.

Exception.

Teacher—Plants thrive only in sunlight, do they not?

Smart Pupil—Not all of them.

"Can you name an exception?"

"Yes'm. An electric light plant."—Arkansas Traveler.

Obscure.

Oldboarder—You ought to get a filter, madam.

Mrs. Wisakheard (the landlady)—Why? I thought the water was remarkably clear.

Oldboarder—So it is; I referred to the soup.—Brooklyn Life.

Necessity Knows No Law.

She—I hope you didn't leave your heart behind you at the seashore.

He—No; something far more important.

She—What is that?

He—My trunk.—Puck.

A Disputed Case.

Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not baldness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question, it is well to say that most cases of baldness are due to disease, while others are due to neglect. Only a specialist of years of experience can tell this. Professor Birkholz, the world-renowned German specialist of the Masonic Temple, Chicago, where those who desire a good head of hair or beard can consult him in private, is free of charge. After a thorough examination, which is free of charge, he will tell you whether or not you may procure that trait of personal adornment so necessary to your existence, and if we find that the follicles are not all dead, we will treat you and guarantee the results or ask no pay. Call on or address Professor Birkholz, 1011 Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

Hand this notice to any first class druggist and he will get the Remedy for you at once, if he has not got it in stock.

dollar. We are after the shining shekels and we expect to get 'em by giving value for them. We don't want them on any other terms. Come and see us and you will find us Death on the Dicker. We take no man's dust on the track. We won't be bluffed out of the business game. Our highest aim has always been to fit everybody with ready-to-wear clothing.

WE HAVE STRUCK IT AT LAST.

The Pickwick Clothing fills the bill. Never before have we been able to offer as fine fitting for odd-sized men at the prices we will make on the Pickwicks. We are now fixed to stay in the game.

MONDAY WILL BE OUR PICKWICK OPENING DAY.

Largest line Boy's Combination Suits in the city for school. On display Pickwick Day only.

PICKWICK CLOTHING PARALYZES the high-priced merchant tailor. We can fit anybody, no difference what shape, equally as good as they will after taking your measure, and give you just as good a suit of clothes for at least $10 less. It is foolish to have any merchant tailor in the city make your clothes, while Pickwicks are on hand. Perfection in fitting clothes to odd-sized men is now reached. Come in Monday, let us try.

New Tariff! New Prices! New Goods!

THIS IS A COMBINATION HARD TO BEAT.

While competitors are CRYING dull times we are overrun with business. Last week's sales were most gratifying and will never be forgotten by our numerous customers who have fortunately purchased some of our bargains. Our Mr. Kimball has just returned from the east where he purchased carload after carload of the most beautiful furniture ever offered for sale and the beauty of the whole deal is he purchased it at his own price.

Earthquakes of terrific forces level the prices. Living flames burning the prices seem to spring up all over the store. You must see it. A display as grand as the eruption of Vesuvius every day.

Ladies and Children unescorted can visit this Grand Display and will be made welcome to our store.

Modest, handsome and shapely pieces of Furniture, neatly and classically costumed in a series of marvelous decorations and evolutions. Take the Milwaukee Avenue cars, call for Kimball's each and every conductor knows the place, all cars stop directly in front of the door. Everything free, no reserved seats. Plenty of seating capacity for all who want to sit down. Courteous salesmen will show you through. We have more furniture than the three other stores combined.
